In addition, when creating an email or text or when linking meets to a program (including importing meets, importing results, creating meets or creating volunteer events/meets), in all relevant filters or popups, non-archived programs are listed first in the following order, followed by archived programs in the same order:

- 1. programs are primarily sorted by start date, with the most recent start date at the top.
- 2. programs with the same start date are sorted again by end date, with the most recent end date at the top.
- 3. programs with the same start date and end date are sorted again by name in the alphabetical order.

GL Code

Previously, when assigning existing GL codes to products or fees, you or the treasurers had to double-click the corresponding Enter GL code field for the dropdown list of existing GL codes to appear.

Now, the dropdown list of existing GL codes appears after a single click, for example:

Email Tool

Previously, in the Email tool, no changes could be saved to an existing email template (any changes to an existing email template had to be saved as a new template).

Now, you and your staff can save changes to an existing template or enter a new template name to save the changes to a new template.

Miscellaneous

In the Swim Manager:

- When you or your staff process a refund (such as canceling an order or transferring a registration), if your agency has exceeded the refund limit, then an error message is displayed with a link to the REFUND LIMIT REACHED -ACTIVEWORKS SWIMMING help article.
- Your user preferences for the homepage > View page number (a previously-released feature) and the above Status filter are remembered for future sessions until you change the settings, clear the browser cache or change to a different browser.

Resolved Issues

Previously, agencies were unable to import .SD3 results files with a missing AgeOrCalss(64-66) field into AWS programs. This issue has been resolved in this release.
